

Why We Chose the Name Warthog Steel Co

Every company name has a story. For Warthog Steel Co, that story begins with military service, a commitment to supporting others, and a belief that customers deserve relentless support.

The name is inspired by the A-10 Thunderbolt II, better known as the "Warthog." During my military service, I worked as a crew chief on the A-10. It is an aircraft known for toughness, reliability, and one mission above all else: supporting the people on the ground. The A-10 wasn't designed to be flashy. It was designed to show up when it mattered most, perform in difficult conditions, and get the job done. That's the same philosophy we bring to every project at Warthog Steel Co.

The A-10 earned its reputation because people knew they could count on it when conditions were difficult. At Warthog Steel Co, we believe trust is earned the same way. Our goal is to earn your trust through honest communication, dependable service, and following through on our commitments. Our real mission is helping customers create spaces that support their goals, livelihoods, and families.

Built on Service

A steel building is a major investment.

Whether you're building a workshop, garage, equipment storage building, barn, commercial facility, or hobby space, you deserve more than just a building supplier. You deserve a partner who communicates clearly and helps guide you through the process.

Our goal is simple:

- Listen first
- Understand your needs
- Design a building that fits your vision
- Support you from quote to completion

Just like the A-10 was built to support those who depended on it, Warthog Steel Co was built to support our customers.

Strength That Lasts

Steel buildings have become one of the most practical and durable construction solutions available today.

Benefits include:

- Long-term durability
- Low maintenance requirements
- Fast construction timelines
- Customizable layouts and finishes
- Excellent value per square foot

Whether you need a simple storage building or a fully customized shop, steel provides the flexibility to create exactly what you need.

Every Building Starts With a Conversation

No two customers are the same.

Some need a place to store tractors and equipment. Others want a workshop for weekend projects. Some are planning a commercial operation that will support their business for decades. That's why we don't believe in one-size-fits-all solutions.

We work with customers to determine:

- Building size
- Door locations
- Insulation needs
- Color selections
- Future expansion plans
- Site considerations

The result is a building designed specifically for how you plan to use it.

Thank you for taking the time to learn about our story. If you're considering a steel building, I'd welcome the opportunity to help you plan your project and answer any questions along the way.
